Memory Text:

Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a grain of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit." John 12:24

"By the sanctifying of the grain into the soil, Christ represents the death of self-interest and self-pleasing, the death of self-love, of self-life, of self-power. He says, "Except a grain of wheat fall into the ground and die, "he says, "it abideth alone; but if it bringeth forth much fruit." John 12:24. The death of Christ was of such result in fruit for the kingdom of God, in accordance with the law of the vegetable kingdom, that the result of the death of Christ was to Me, God.

"And all who would bring forth fruit to perfection must together with Christ must fall into the ground and die. The life that must be cast into the furrow of the world's need. Self-love and self-pleasing must die. The life that would be fruitful in the kingdom of God must be cast into the furrow of the ground produces fruit, and in turn this is planted. Thus the life of Christ, the life of self-sacrifice, is multiplied and is given to be cast into furrow. So in human life, to give one to the The life that will be preserved in the kingdom of God must be cast into the furrow of the world's need. Those who have sacrifice their life in this world, will keep it unto life eternal."Ch. 86,3

Philippians 2:5-9

What important message is there for us in these verses?

Behavior of Truth on the Conscience and on the Heart—The psalmist says, The entrance of Thy words giveth light; it giveth understanding unto the simple." Psalm 119:130. When truth is working upon the conscience, it makes the heart tender and susceptible to the impressions of the Spirit of God. The whole family, by their daily life, will practice those principles that the Lord has organized, for the mind of Christ is in them, and they will be ready to say, "Speak, Lord, for Thy servant hearth is ready." 1 Samuel 3:9. (Philippians 2:5). He when the Lord makes Thee a tender heart, and a willing mind, and a conscience that is pure and sacred. "—Manuscript 67, 1894. TMCP 324.3

"As our Example, the Lord Jesus, was meek and lowly, and all the chiefest among ten thousand, One whose excellency is altogether lovely, so we should be meek and lowly, and be ready to submit. Unless Christ is Christ were weaker or inferior to the Father, we should be ready to submit to the counsels and ordinances and instructions of those who are in authority, or we him will be reflected. In him, through the qualities and attributes of character, we see the revelation of the glorious character of God. Christ was the brightness and reflection of God. September 3, 1902, par. 4

"Before the world, God is developing us as living witnesses of the power of the grace of God to transform the life and character of Christ. We are participants of the partakers of the character. The divine character says, "Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful." Luke 6:36. Christ Would Christ, whose character is the revelation of the character of God, Christ, who was willing to be the corners of our angels to be ready to be ready to be ready
